TROUBLE SHOOTING

Applies to All Sonoma Table Models

If you are experiencing technical difficulties with your Sonoma, we ask that you perform these trouble shooting techniques prior to contacting Living Earth Crafts.

One-Touch Lever is difficult to move: (Hydro-pneumatic Facial Tilt & Salon Tilt tables)

1. If you are experiencing difficulties in moving the One-Touch Lever, check the cable for any kinks or sharp bends from the lever to the gas springs. The cable should have a soft radius in order to allow the inner cable to travel freely in the cable sheath. If the cable is kinked, contact Living Earth Crafts.

Manual Tilt Bale Arms Do Not Line Up (Manual Tilt Back table only)

1. If the manual tilt bale arms don't line up and naturally fall into the top catches of the plastic blocks, this can be adjusted by loosening the nut on the bale arm and turning the screw until the position is correct. Lock the nut down to prevent the screw from turning and affecting the adjustment.

If you are unable to resolve the problem with your table, please refer to Section 5, Technical Problems, and contact Living Earth Crafts.
